

SWITCHED ON SCHOOLS

Climate Justice In -School Workshops

Climate change is affecting everyone across our planet, however its impacts are not felt equally. It is especially young people, Indigenous people and poor communities that are most affected.

Our in-school climate justice workshop uses a peer to peer approach. It engages students in the great challenges of sustainability, as well as the exciting opportunities for young people to take action to contribute to a fairer, cleaner and more sustainable future!

The workshop will cover the Australian Curriculum's Cross Curriculum priority of Sustainability (OI:3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9). It can also fit in with learning areas including the Humanities, English and Science.

"The workshop provided a really awesome opportunity to develop my leadership skills, learn about climate change and connect with other students to plan sustainability projects."

Jack Nyhof – Geelong High School

What

Highly trained AYCC facilitators deliver 40-80 minute interactive workshops in-school on climate justice and solutions

Who

Best suited to students in year 9 and above. Workshops can be delivered to a class, year level or as part of special school day

Cost

From $150 per workshop

When

We will work with your school to find a day and time that suits

What next?

Students will be linked to switchedonschools.org.au to take on campaign challenges, access resources and linked to the Student Climate Action Network for ongoing support

Contact

Laura Sykes,
National Schools Program Coordinator
0437 007 437
laura.sykes@aycc.org.au